LYRICS AND OTHER POEMS
1989-2019

THE MAGIC (La Magia)

The others were looking at the landscape through the rain but only you and I were seeing the rain

LA MEJOR HORA. The Best Hour. 1996-1999.

39 HEARTBEATS (39 Latidos)

Listen, I'm still a stranger and this is the way I have to leave the pain behind Though it may be for one day Though it may be a lie Yellow moon on the bay looks good...

Listen...

Elvis already had this sad glimpse in the good times of 56'. There are planes that crash and stars that are higher than planes And a comet in your cheeks. But look...

Damned times don't have any other way out but fire and ashes And you move your lips sometimes and I think you know my songs even if you are only breathing And this delirious guy wants a date But look, quiet, listen...

I'm still a stranger I created a flower and called her Weariness 39 heartbeats for a lost cause Come closer Offer me a cold beer Tell me something so I laugh Even if it is a lie But look...

TRAINS BOATS AND PLANES

(Trenes barcos y aviones)

There is no way back
There are no stars like you
There are trains, boats and planes
And as far as you run away as close as you are to yourself as close you are to me

There're no songs that tell nothing There's not another world but other worlds There are trains, boats and planes If you run away from a thing in your life something escapes from you

There are no life-jacket poems
There are no fish with their eyes closed
There are trains, boats and planes
as close as you are to the right road as close to anywhere

There's nothing but laughter and tears There are no stars brighter than you There are trains, boats and planes And castaways in the storm clasping one another's hands like wendy and peter pan

A BRAVE FACE ON (De Tripas Corazón)

As a heroic act to spend a day without eating Till your stomach rumbling becomes your best song As life is songs -the troubadour said that-Vampires of beer and rum.

Two woman talking about how you can't stop the wind with the breathe that you blow Between both their eyes a mad boomerang To spend a day without eating To put a brave face on To make the night all love

The winter is long, you know but longer is the stem of the lonely flower nobody pulled up To make the night all love It's the look that flows like a jet What are you going to do when today comes?

ONE'S BEARINGS (El Norte)

You say every six months you have to stop the engine To weigh your values What makes you be the way you are

You think you don't want to suffer again or be the cause of other's suffering You think you wont fall into the black hole The trap of resignation

And you promise yourself you'll never go adrift again you'll never lose your bearings again

The bearings of being guided by your feelings The bearing of Ismael and Captain Scott May nobody come with a magnet when you are checking your compass May nobody mistake you for another when you are the very best of you

PART OF THE TIME (Parte del Tiempo)

Blue sky early in the morning Slight breeze from the northeast She eats some bread of rye with aromas of thyme and oil and I forget the time Part of the time

A millenarian tree a ticket of a fleeting street car Clouds from the west at noon white gray black ones
Old silver waters
Boats that surround the lake without leaving you She puts her hands in her pockets and I forget the time
Part of the time

Lightning and thunders
Replacing candles
Running from the storm Kisses in the arcades as in chapels
Rain in her hair Flower under an unique rain
She moves her lips and I forget that I am just Part of the time

Fresh humid night
Pools and steam
A Chinese poem and a giraffe that still does not raise its neck Warming ourselves up Coming back to life blinking
She whispers verses to me
and I forget the time
Part of the time

And I ask later: What's weather like tomorrow? And she says, this one Our time Our part of the time

WOMAN OF CUTTING LOOKS (Mujer de Mirada Afilada)

It's getting light in the city and there are the ones going back home and the ones who stay waiting for heaven knows what
And then it's you
Woman of cutting looks
With your pain on your back
With your pills and desolation Your perform like a smoke curtain so nobody knows you too well or ever sees you cry

I light a cigarette by the station
I look at the trains on the railroad
One of them is ready to go Mine will take a little longer
There is the one who is waiting for a miracle and the one who seems to be waiting for himself
And then it's you
Woman of cutting looks
With delusions on your back With your gouging phrases and absolute investment in fate With your satellite boys and your fear to see how time flies Without anybody finding out storms scare you and you miss roses without a sender and letters without thorns

Perhaps you haven't meet yet the man who in the night without tomorrow knows what you deserve just for being you.

BLUE (Azul)

The candle has burnt out and you have cried To pull up a geranium or to pull up something of yourself I invented the blue and I was quick once Because of the blue Over the blue and under the blue

A joker with a torch and a road to silence Behind the shades it's life Behind the theatre the woods

The ego stands still and the pilgrim guides the torch Wild times were this way and that's what the torch is telling

The dreams I have you have dreamt before The shirt I'm wearing you have worn before

Your eyes are the weightless map

I could go farther ahead but the simplest is just to go and no to measure how far

STRAY BULLET (Bala Perdida)

A stray bullet you have to be Against the wind Against hypocrisy Against vanity

Stray bullets ought to be the ones you meet along the way and are like you Accomplices in lost battles Against milestones Against the grey suits of mediocrity

I confess I'm a stray bullet and I'm going to you gunpowder by love

THERE ARE STRANGE DAYS (Hay días raros)

There are strange days

You don't need what you have

You don't have what you need

Blood flows backwards

Stations stop at trains and lips don't remember kisses

There are strange days

It might be an eclipse or a change in the wind

The thing is that they merge with strange nights

You have the other's scent but they are not there

You have reasons to cry and yet you laugh

Watering holes close when you pass by

The filming is over but the scene continues

Nobody says 'cut'

You walk in black on the sand and you are not conscious of the only place that never closes: the sea

And when you feel the water around your ankles you realise that tomorrow is just another day and to live is to move forward even in the strange days.

JACK OF HEARTS (Jack de Corazones)

Jack of Hearts

It's you beating on where nobody else can

The rare innocent one

Guilty for the solitary Mohicans

The one that follows the last one

Oh you the voice

You all the voices when they cry for love

Jack Of Hearts

The brave one without axe or sword

Your empty glasses

Your pocket that has no gold to rust

Flesh out in the open

Sacred heart fallen apart

Oh you the voice

All the human voices when they're crying in pain

Jack Of Hearts

Angel with borrowed wings

Silence and sounds from Adam's apple

You are the silver lining in every cloud

Small change changes the weather

Jack of Hearts

Fever in Van Gogh's ear hungry for love

Jack of Hearts

Soul of harps and Noah's Ark

The sound of lost voices

Jack on the wire

Surfer skeleton

Between life and death

I see you floating before the flood

Salt of paradise

Lilies and thorns, sex and sweat

The voice of strangers wandering for love

Between the Big and Bang

Between chiming ding and dong

Between the yin and yan

Jack of Hearts

You're doing zig

I'm doing zag

Like the voice of anybody else wearing his heart on his sleeve

You're doing zig

Zigzag zigzag...

Zigzag zigzag...

THERE'S NO METAL IN THE MINE (No Hay Metal en la Mina)

There's no metal in the mine, Snow White There's no kiss worth its weight in gold There's no gold in the mine, Snow White There's no gold in the mine

Usurers of rot in the woods
The band didn't march
The song was about the blue about counting on the tender and coal is not this way

The mine is closed, Snow White The Seven Dwarfs were magnificent There're no precious stones in the mine, Snow White We don't have to go home to work We'll make a dish in the kitchen, Snow White and Dopey will announce the menu

LILA & FLAG (Lila y Flag)

The place you used to play is occupied by cars instead of the red mustang, the French girl of your mind You left the party and it was your party You left your wings for the law of gravity And now you are wandering around thru the streets and always arrive at the parties late when the lights turn off your voice and the angel is faster than your songs and it's always a few years beyond...

O Flag don't write your last will today Don't think of what changed Making mountains out of molehills is exhausting Cut the knot and give voice to the wound

If you ask about God you wont have an answer
Maybe a cross
Lila bares a cross and has a cat's name and a body of flame
The place of the games, she looks at it without future
She sings her song about having to run
She dresses in black and white

She cries only with one eye, has pain in her broken bones and she's where you turn the corner and another fallen angel is twice her age
She runs away in a red mustang with no inhibitions while she's singing...

O Flag don't write your last will today Don't think of what changed Making mountains out of molehills is exhausting Cut the knot and give voice to the wound

THE BEST HOUR (La Mejor Hora)

In your smile of a man who might be king there's pain there're dry river beds there's truth You stoke the fire with your closed eyes with the clear look of women that are as crazy as you It's the best hour: your favourite when times slips away Rough sea, enclosed sea Her hands on your shoulder when silence falls It's the best hour: your favourite when time slips away In your smile of a man who might be king there's passion there're two blue cat's eyes there's truth

It's the best hour: your favourite when time slips away

THE WATERPROOF KID

(El Niño Impermeable)

"Get wet? I never get wet."

He's friend with Merlin the Wizard and Puss in Boots.

He also likes playing marbles with strange friends and little girls.

When he crosses the road first he looks left, then he looks right, never both ways.

You can always see him walking through the park with slipping glasses.

He would like to find more secrets around the corners.

He looks, fascinated, through the windows when he hears the ramble of the rubbish truck.

He knows it's a sacred thing as a sweetie after nap-time.

He spends his holidays counting poppies in the cornfields.

The grass flattens itself when it sees him coming.

During the day he whistles songs about witches or cockroaches.

When he stops in front of a window you could think he is waiting for a train to pass behind the glass.

He doesn't pay attention to clouds.

No. He doesn't pay attention.

He cries for the captive elephant and is friend with the check-out girls.

At night... At night he dreams a lot.

He stays alones when there's a storm.

CHEAP MUSIC (Música Barata)

I listen to cheap music
I smoke cheap cigars
I sink my feet into cheap puddles
I hold cheap umbrellas in my hands
And I always amuse myself with cheap movies

Thank you for your postcard I send you back a photograph of cheap eyes I'm fine, though not today and I'm glad that you are happy, though not today

I hear cheap bells
God talks to me through cheap wine and I have such cheap dreams I make love in cheap hotels
I always listen to cheap songs and have cheap scars

Thank you for your postcard I send you back a photograph of cheap eyes I'm fine, though not today and I'm glad that you are happy,

though not today

THERE IS NO DRESS REHEARSAL (Nada se pasa a limpio)

I heard you say you have to piss against the wind you have to burn with things you can't put out A regular at the taverns as I am at bars
All I know about life is that there is no dress rehearsal Everything is for real like that beer you drink
You don't even have time to realise that you are the one living it

There is no dress rehearsal for kisses, for wounds, for this song You there in The Golden Tiger I'm sitting here in Café del Temps I'm going to order another round If the ink runs I'll run that way too For this dirty unfocused beautiful life with a woman's name I only know there is no dress rehearsal Everything is for real my friend Everything is for real.

FLEETING VALENCIA (Valencia Fugaz)

You don't see me tonight
I don't see you
I see cars passing by Too much waste
Too many kings of the feast
For a so small a door Rag bats
An ant at every step I have done this before but I don't remember who was there with me

The pockets are at both sides
But which side of the tracks are they on?
The motorbike is old
Don't box my ears
To be brave in Valencia makes you special To be a mess from another world makes you more real

I want to feel at home everywhere like Huckleberry Finn

If I feel what I'm saying what I'm saying is true It's raining outside It's the last match Take it easy

Three pills for the soul And your wet shoes next to your bed, how good! And you look at your feet Wishes are barefoot

Take it easy
Don't strain yourself and rest a lot Don't do all that they expect of you I want to be a star and I want to be a shooting one I want to feel at home everywhere like Huckleberry Finn...

HYDE PARK

When you focus with your fingers and hold the pen like a globe you really believe what has to fade away will fade slowly

And you stand a hunched over sometimes
Other times are chains of umbilical cord
You follow the river like you follow the flow of pain Some people grew up, Alice and other people, little Darling, embraced the mystery Wore the mask of failure and drinking from the fountain they dreamt of an unlucky world where things that have to fade away will fade slowly

La barca Chinet, la de las Nieves

Sshh Can you hear the birds?
The voice of the rebel Irishman on the other side of the wall It's like that day riding to the beach with Suzanne Retreat to Zaidia
A cat that dreams for you
The world is cold and your heart is warm
Along the way you're going to lose what you have and what you lose is you

Beyond the sleepless, the distant music This rare stillness of the one who knows all that is fresh and passionate as it has to fade away will do it slowly

Near dawn I feel the sheet, like skin of lightning veins for the cold of Hyde Park There's mud in the waters under your bed but I hear your temples beat and I can row a wish Faults of the ones who forgot their childhood as they will fade away will do it before forever

OLD ROAD (Vieja Carretera)

At twilight at the time of our human confusion I can see two birds on the wire One of them is injured and seems stricken by how time flies but the other one seems entranced by the beauty of that wound At twilight an old road is all what I have before me and behind me coming from yesterday and going towards tomorrow And a bend every now and again Yes, a bend every now and again...

A bend makes me feel alive makes me sing the song of better times It's an old road, yes I can't deny it But it's my road it's my twilight It's my way of getting through life and other lives and other beings And a bend every now and again Yes, a bend every now and again ...

FADE AWAY

My friend is called Fade Away
I close one eye
And she blends into an impossible Blue-green background
I close the other eye
And I feel her circle my waist
And I know I'll never be able to focus
My camera
On these sensations in which she envelopes
All her love nowhere

My friend is called Fade Away And she says hello and she says goodbye And she is always in love And she never remembers why

VASH GON. 2000.

BIRD'S EYE-VIEW (A vista de pájaro)

I have a slow red mare that only accelerates when she feels the desire of change at her back I climb an old mountain with difficulty and it's hard, like Cecilia The girl with a younger mountain who was born under the sea and at the top she likes to scream

Bird's eye-view
Take care of your wings
The time that drags is the time that passes
All the friends you have, are wandering around

I write without light
I write without glasses or cover
I don't know if someone is watching me or if I watch them
Today could be tomorrow
Hairs are grey and the gaze is blue
There are streets of pain and pain to be gone
There may be a dry leaf on the tree and a whisper could make it fall

Carlota left me her cat for a month She said, it's hard to know what he wants He eats at strange hours Sleeps on your bed or in the darkest place
When he meows it could be for anything at all or it could be that he's just meowing One week later we looked at each other and I was like him and he was like me
We meow and we don't know why
When we are not sleepy we just eat

Silvia taught me what I had forgotten and she left me speechless without even screaming She drew a map on my chest with her finger She told me where tenderness was and that suffering and passion were off the map She said: 'This is not a horse, baby, don't hold the reins too hard, please' I still didn't know how to let it run and she had a wild side to care for Desire rides through the wilderness and there are those who close their eyes and go

It all comes down to this, you know You begin doing something for the beauty of an angel and when the angel disappears like a cloud you keep on doing it, you can't help it
You don't know how to do anything else
You have every colour in your mind's eye
A melody in the silence of a cardboard box
The doctor says you must watch what you eat
The fortune teller says you must watch what you see
And the joker, when he is alone, dresses like a king.

Bird's eye-view
Take care of your wings

THRU THE RAIN WITH SUZANNE (Lloviendo con Suzanne)

This motorcycle knows the rain
She knows why we are riding and she don't know anything else
She's not different than us She'll take us wherever the hell she wants to She knows why we want to ride and she don't know where we're going to stop
The reason to be here or to be there

Who can know that?
Does paradise exist or is it just an elegant way to let the magic come and pass by?
The reason to be here or to be there...

It's just this afternoon passing by riding thru the rain to the beach with Suzanne

It's just like you or me
This motorcycle in the rain
Now, you know we have nothing but the wine: a boat that overflows and lets you float on a sea of memories

And the afternoon passes by

Yes, that's all Just this afternoon passing by riding thru the rain to the beach with Suzanne

Is everything going well over there?

Yes, that's all Riding Thru the rain This afternoon With Suzanne...

TRAMONTANA

You sat behind me in the motorbike I felt your beautiful restless hands around my waist asking me to run
You wanted to feel the wind in your face And as far as I accelerated you were always some years behind me and you would always need some years you couldn't burn
Two wheels so near each other and never touch
The Tramontana blows and there's nothing to say

That way you had of looking on other side when someone searched for you with their closed yes Those broken bones, the mystery in your eyes The madness of wanting to be something else each day Nobody was near enough to know who I was Nobody was far enough to open my heart Two wheels so near each other and never touch The Tramontana blows and there's nothing to say

You'd always be a wheel of years behind You hear the Tramontana and you can't speak Two wheels so near each other and never touch
What did you say?
I can't hear you
The Tramontana...

HARD TIMES (Malos Tiempos)

My grandpa tells me about the Civil War He shows me his great scar The long journey to Nazareth Mum never liked driving but she had to, to take us there, you and me

Hard Times
When will they pass
Hard Times
Don't want to go back again

Night time noises I can't identify How white the moon is when she is overshadowed by the eclipse A strange noise at the backdoor A strange guy, nobody saw him arrive

Hard Times How long are they going to stay Hard Times Put off coming back

She looks at me and I know if I have fallen again She goes ahead, she's elegant The long journey to Nazareth A sacred heart hangs in the doorway I left it there because if we go adrift a heart is a sacred thing

Hard Times Don't want you no more Hard Times Don't dirty my step no more

FOG AND CROSS (Niebla y Cruz)

I'm throwing out demons in the form of my cough You haven't tried the wine I drink to celebrate you are there Through broken streets dumbfounded tightrope artists pass by

I want the rumour to spread: It doesn't let you hear what I don't say Sometimes you pull out an ace or else your heart from your chest Who draws a cross?

You know everyone plays his cards
You know it hurts if you lose
You know I've got a gambling soul
Don't be afraid if you don't see the hole
When you can't see things clear you start from scratch
Even a clod can fall
They call it fog
You don't need to see to believe.

All that's left it's to be impeccable When the buildings block your view but you know there's something on the other side It's mother earth and it's sacred

I want the rumour to spread:

It doesn't let you hear what I don't say Sometimes you pull out an ace or else your heart from your chest I draw a cross

You know you can change your cards
You know it hurts to lose
You know I've got a gambling soul
I'm not afraid I won't see the hole
When you can't see things clear you start from scratch
Even a clod can fall
They call it fog.
You don't need to see to believe.

And you know there are loves from another world You know my soul is a gambling one...

SHE IS LIKE A ROOM (Ella Es Como Una Habitación)

There is a song that sounds when the song ends
She dreams that she walks on ice and it's sand and she is barefoot
She has her Changing Shoes
When you shout up you can hear her speaking 'What you have felt
You can feel again'
She disappears when you are ready
And appears when you are tired of giving

And there's mercury in her eyes There's an open prison from which any prisoner can escape and you stay, dragging your silver shackles, your rings and ten tattooed pains and she is there drawing the waterline

Life is short and cuts like a razor's edge and she is like a room and she is the edge and the tide She is the waterline When hostels are closed She is like a room There is mercury in her eyes, headlights "You can't use the keys of old houses any more, love"
Looking back is bad luck
And she is the letter you haven't finished and she is so free she could walk at your side
She is like a room and you are there, under the moon and it's cold, and your heart skips and the ship sinks, and the light comes and goes and the voice comes and goes

Life is short and cuts like a razor's edge And you know what is like to fall and float and she can teach you to dance When the door opens she is like a room

LLÉVAME ALLÍ (Take me there)

It's time to leave Where are you going to take me? I want to be taken and never leave here It's the rain on your skin Scents that keep passing by Take me there any day and beyond To the silence of before the calm and the colour Now the door is closed Only the voice remains and the rain on your skin Take me there Where you are taken and returned If you don't know me better it's because I'm inside of you Take me there Where there are no doors to be closed Where sounds the music with soul Baden Powell, Johnny Lee Joao Gilberto, Buddy Holly...

Now, now...

Take me, take me back Take me, take me, take me back Take me there

Take me, take me there

Any day Any moment

Where peace reigns

Where sounds the music with soul

Take me, take me

Where there are no doors to be closed

Take me home

Take me

Take me, take me, take me back Take me, take me back

The colour of the sea A morning of hangover

The salty voice The voice of jazz

Chet Baker

When lights are low

Almost blue

All the things you are September in the rain Take me, take me back

The wind,

The rain on my skin Take me, take me there To the rumpled sheets To the familiar scent

Buy me an ice cream, buy me an ice cream

The passing and being taken

Take me, take me back

Take me back

Before today
Before yesterday
Any day and beyond
To the caress and the colour
To the day before
To the silence of before
To the silence
Take me, take me there
That's how we roll...

LOUISE

I hardly know how to pronounce your name and bars haven't opened yet What will your town be?

A honey suckle gives the intruder's perfect wink You will have seen my watch on the table The tracks of my shoes on the staircase Arriving on the threshold you will have thought What will become of us If we don't remember?

I hardly guess your age, what your fears are. Drunk on your painted lips I travel through the marshes of the confused dawn In which town will you be happy?

SAN JUAN'S NIGHT

Tonight's last song
The last drink
You look so beautiful when you're leaving
I can't even keep my eyes open Summer is coming
I see bonfires in the distance and a boat setting off When the swaying of the sea rocks me remember this song
How your rocked your body while the music was being played and my voice faded out

The last drink
I want to make a toast to the weary that went away to the wild where the flowers grow up free Tell me how is it going with your life
If the rain goes with your steps or someone embraces your changing dreams Conscience was in danger and so were our emotions
May not be in vain
When the breeze caresses your skin
remember this song
How the music was caressing your body while my voice faded out.

TAN FIERO TAN FRÁGIL. 2003

RUST (Óxido)

The tailpipe of my motorbike has a crack When I'm trying on starting it, it sounded different A classic sound

I drove it to the mechanic
He said we had to change the pipe
The crack was caused by rust
Too much humidity
That classic sound
Such is rust

Too much time in the open air he told me and it's true
It has been a careless year for it
As much for me as for the house, but we pulled through and it's not too bad
Just a classic sound

About the effect of that rusty year on my heart
The mechanic told me I could change the pipe
The exhaust pipe of my feelings and ought to be in mind that classic sound.

We write down all the things we like on an invisible notebook
The whole package, take it or leave it Beauty, the towns we didn't seen if the songs hadn't taken us there Do you know anything else about that woman looking at you as if you were losing it?
Lucky Bar
There in the Lucky Bar Get us another round
at the Lucky Bar

Machado, Blake, John Berger's books
The whole package take it or leave it Is there anything better than surviving?
Yes, the second beer
The last one?
Three cigarettes, two words and the shadows of the Lucky Bar
Lucky Bar

Listen... Life Don't forget it, yes That phrase... Here today gone tomorrow And sometimes there is just the here and now...

In the Lucky Bar Lucky Bar Get us another round at the Lucky Bar

BELA MONTE

The shape of your mother Your long body and your voice
So many sad guys cry at your feet when you're going and they don't know your name
Bela Monte

You've learned to read others' future but your future is a mystery And you don't know how you feel until you lose feeling And fear is young and your daring Bela Monte

There are men that could kill you and others would die for you So some bones crack from abuse as much as hugs And your gaze falls in places where nobody else dare to look Bela Monte

One of these days you won't be so young Beauty is not pausing This air of a runaway with no reasons
We are both orphans
I don't know where you will sleep tonight What continent will not have enough space to your being
Bela Monte

You are from the place I grew up Fifteen years old, love among the reeds Watching trains and wanting to be in them
Too early to have scars
Too late to heal the wounds

I don't know how to feel again
That's something that stops and starts again
I can hear our voices from the seashore Desire is a wandering light Truth an adolescent dream
Fear is losing what is already lost
Bela Monte

I have a picture of what I was Your look of goodbye Nothing to lose by changing

Bela Monte

Where will you be? What will they call you? If I hear my name perhaps I will turn and look Bela Monte Where will you be? Who will love you?

Days of madness and joy
A dark angel made its nest in your room
Twenty years still to come
Remember what you're feeling now
Remember what you were feeling then Shine and then pass on

1979

Out of the blue and into the black Horses, Slow train coming ¿What's a fuse like you doing in a volcano like this? Cut your hair Draw your dreams in blood on the wall

1998

Whatever you do do it well You flipped a coin and it hasn't come back yet Twenty years now
Remember what you're feeling now
Remember what you were feeling yesterday Shine and pass on Shine and go and see...

AN EMBRACE (En un abrazo)

There's no space for the cold in an embrace There's not that much more to say There are some wars over there and there are some other wars within I look at you and I can't see your face
I see your face and I don't want anything more

You, where are you going? I can't guess what are you thinking of You, where are you going? We may go together a while

Look, put on some old music That new stuff it's no good for me There's some things that make me laugh and there's some things that make me cry Words are not the things What are you pretending to change?

You, where are you going? I can't guess what you're thinking of You, where are you going? We may go together a while

There's no space for the cold in an embrace Sometimes it's better to forget Blue pains and letters of love You're alone, you may stay alone I look at you and I can't see your face I see your face now and I don't want anything more

You, where are you going?
We may go together a while
You, where are you going?
You don't know it but we met each other before

You, where are you going? We may go together a while You, where are you going? Don't worry, don't say goodbye... WE'RE NOT GOING TO COMPLAIN NO MORE (No nos vamos a quejar nunca más)

It's just another day you're coming back home Debts took your house away Someone wants you more alive Someone wants you more dead We're not going to complain no more

If you don't make noise, people don't hear If you make noise, who will listen You strained your voice in the cave Out of the cave is even worse We're not going to complain no more

She wants to be sure of who you are You are not sure about anything She doesn't want to be your muse She doesn't want to be your mom We're not going to complain no more

Another day in the dug-up city
If you are sensitive take care boy
An angel passes...
You fall down thinking of how beautiful is We're not going to complain no more

You can tell it louder but not clearer City under construction work... are they good works? Remember the Dakota proverb The path is beautiful, silence The path is beautiful, silence

We're not going to complain no more...

THE WEST COAST (La Costa Oeste)

Silence.

You take what you love with you like wet sand under your feet.

A certain common sense took you far from a world of being at home at ten from boring men with feminine faces and boring women with masculine faces.

A world in which fantasy is a bone to gnaw, The right and the good what serve to the ones who define transgressions, the ambition of bloodsuckers.

Desire is an outlaw yet is not from the law your fingers point out between the sky and earth.

You've come from the West Coast but you keep on being at the same place because you never left.

Let's go fishing to the dyke
You know it's not for the fish though you're a fish, and the fishing rod and this friend going with you
And that woman who approaches you from behind
You feel her breathe in your ear
You turn... and the blue
The immense blue that whispers:
"You'll keep on being there when you no longer are"

PRAYER 709 (Plegaria 709)

Take care of my voice for when I cannot speak Keep hold of your silence for my voice

Throw your tears to heaven when you are riding the storm Throw some sugar to the waves Put your longer day on my shoulder

Lose yourself, cats just do it Find yourself, cats just do it If you cannot see you are there turn off the light

Smile at the ground Avoid me, embrace me Miss me, meet me

Say 709
Say you are thirsty when they ask you about hunger
Talk that way, in the dark Move that way, without thinking so much Go against the tide, ride another wave
Come to see me

Dance with your surroundings

Dance around your world Dance...

SEE HOW IT GOES (A ver qué pasa)

Try not to think of consequences
See how it goes
Put on a bandage where it hurts
See how it goes
On one side light, dark on the other side
See how it goes
On one side the thunder, the fleeting ray on the other side
See how it goes
You're in or you're out
See how it goes

Hold the match until the last moment
See how it goes
Let the draught pass between your legs
See how it goes
Tell me what you want tonight
See how it goes
Make another wish at dawn
See how it goes
You're in or you're out

BOXES (Cajas)

There are days when the only thing you want is to be overcome
There are days
when the only thing you want is to be soothed
There are boxes on the floor with days, desires inside

When you know how to lose yourself they say you have to find yourself again When you know how to lose yourself They say you have to find yourself again Watch your mouth There are lives and wishes on their side

TIME & DETAILS. TIEMPO Y DETALLES. 2006.

ON THE OTHER SIDE (Al Otro Lado)

The sky is not blue
I don't know what colour it is as I'm looking from this side of the glass
It may be a bird or the button from a coat
I could listen to you telling the truth or I could believe it's true
I don't mind
I wish we were friends
I wish you were on the other side inside yourself

The sky is not blue
but it's not blue
I could trust to know who I am
I could trust to know how I feel
This spider is not a toy, it's real
I can hear you when you're crossing the border when I'm not here Stones are distant stars
I hope you believe me when I say I'm on the other side
inside yourself

(chorus) I may dream

I may follow you to the dance My eyes will reach you though my legs can't I can't dance I would be a great dancer for you

You can put me in clothes Hats, shirts, stockings underwear, bright without
You can dress me, draw me wings
You can knock me down, drive me crazy
You can leave, you can come back...

For the sky is not blue
For the sky is not higher than you Looking thru the glass I don't know how the sky is The sound of trains passing by The looks and the silence
Yes carriage, no carriage
On the other side of the glass you might be what you wanted to be I might be what I wanted to be
You might trust me and show me the other side
Inside yourself
I might trust you and show you the other side Inside myself

I may dream
I may follow you to the dance
I can't dance

but I would be a great dancer for you We may dance
We may dream....

FOR THE BREAKS (A los Paréntesis)

Don't forget the breaks Moon in Scorpio Chocolate and sofa

Don't forget the breaks Pictures of skin Kisses of water

Don't look at me when I'm turning Don't make me turn to see you again Don't let me see you too much but open your eyes before you're going to fade away

Don't forget the breaks I'm taking your shirt off You're not going to let me sleep

Dodgems that are touching lovingly where you can loose the tracks...

Don't look at me when I'm turning Don't make me turn to see you again Don't let me see you all the time Open your eyes before you' re going to fade away Open your hands Let the wind stroke you without fear...

YOU WERE NOT THERE TOMORROW (Mañana Tú No Estabas)

The wind comes from the north Fallen leaves at your feet
You have forgotten my charms and they are the same as yesterday
The water scalds or runs cold
I make time or I make coffee
You were not there tomorrow
I light matches for pleasure

The moon shines white
I don't think she does it for me
A dream is a crazy thing or a tale for sleeping
I take a strange girl on my bike
Two black eyes of Nazareth
You were not there tomorrow
I'm going to get you lost

I went for drinks with Nick O'Teen as a lollipops cure
The world goes belly up
Noah sings from his bluesy Ark
A window doesn't make a house Tenderness takes the last train
You were not there tomorrow
I'm catching bouquet

All the bottles in the basket

The drunkenness slipped away When you go who knows where you keep going with worthiness If you run out of luck you keep going, you're right enough You were not there tomorrow Until the wind has passed today

A NOTEBOOK AND A PENCIL (Un Cuaderno y Un Lápiz)

They gave me a notebook and a pen

Everything was in black and white I had to give it colors Colors of the day, colors of the night
Some things you have are in your blood and some you have learned like carrying your dignity within when they give you a notebook and a pen

World is strange, here where I live
A long walk and not a race
It's better to be along the living is better than to lose your breathe
It would be great you could see me shining on the other side
If it costs you too much to believe in what you see change your landscape and not yourself

You always knew where the north was
This is because you were a map drawer I've always been going from here to there not knowing if it was too late or very soon When The Leviathan brought the rules of the game and put the cards on the table I already knew he was strutting along like a king but he never would know what to do with a queen

Dad worked all day and night so we had something to eat
Mom did the same thing and she kept on doing it when he was gone
A realistic woman and a modernist man
They gave me a notebook and a pen
and I understood pain never sleeps as well as tenderness

They gave me a notebook and a pen
They told me where the Great Bear and the Minor One were The notebook was like the skin of someone you love so much You can call me or write me a letter when you don't know where to go or where you are I wont be able to help you to find what you're looking for but I will go anywhere with you

TIME AND DETAILS

Time and details
You're not but feelings
That rock the boat
And sail
Get off your emotions
Keep the faith in those little things
That you do when nobody cries
Fly away from the cold hearts
From the razor reasons

And the beast of speed
Tenderness and blue...
Time and details
So long my friend
We will meet again someday
When Mercury shines like our fingernails
And the joker don't play
Now The moon wears a hat
A blue car is dreaming a cat
The real leaves falling from the wrong tree
Send me a garden of useless roses (useless roses) in your card.
Tenderness and blue....

THE SECOND RAIN

(La segunda lluvia)

After the storm
The second rain that falls
From trees and buildings Reminds you there may be another chance
To find what you thought Was all but lost
The warm old shirt
Someone used to wear, long before Those sweet old dreams
Someone once had, long ago.
Laughing at the wild parade

Tears gone with the wind
I know you are going to feel better soon
Your clouds, my moon.
After the storm
We will talk about the good times
That are yet to come Though we all but ignore what clothes
We should wear for them.

A WOMAN

(Rambling Kitchen Song) I wish I was in the kitchen with your hands around my neck Sometimes I feel I'm living in a real house with her Hers, the mounts I was climbing Nobody saw me on top Hers, the river I was crossing A rock said it's too late to stop A woman is beautiful but you have to swing, and swing and swing and swing like a handkerchief in the wind. I wish I was in the kitchen with your hands around my waist Sometimes I feel I'm dancing in a rambling kitchen with her A woman is beautiful.... Last night you were the only one Your name was not changing every day

There's a bus driven by a crazy boy There's a garden beyond this game A game I'm not going to play no more I like that fantasy but I need a stay

Could you paint all that my beauty needs She says she wants me so brave I can't deny she's the Lady But my bed floats, it's not a grave A woman is beautiful...

("A woman is..." from the short poem "Woman" by Jack Kerouac)

THE MONSTER AND THE LITTLE GIRL (El Monstruo y la Niña Dum Dum)

Every time I close the book with the monster inside the girl laughs delightedly and I shout: "We've squashed the monster!" What the girl doesn't know is that I close the book harder every time and I've become to feel for a moment that we really did squashed the monster.

THE BOAT

She phone at dawn with the voice of December Baby, I know how to feel but I don't know why Took me all night to break the distance Between your dreams and mine

I was sitting on the edge of my unmade December bed Wake up. Can a dream change the weather? You can row and I can repair a keg This has been a restless year of standing violets

The boat is broken and so are your wings... The boat is rocking and so are your wings...

Change of season, change of heart Change of days in another land The boat rocks, so far...

AIRPORT SONG (Close To Your Home)

I didn't notice how much you slipped in my pocket I didn't notice how much my heart was beating

There's an airport close to every house Always There's a plane that lands or flies close to your home or mine

I didn't hear what you told me about the rainy days I didn't feel your fingers touching my face of glass

There's an airport close to every house Always there's a plane that lands or flies close to your home or mine

I was not there when you opened your eyes and looked around I was living the night when you opened your wings at dawn

AMOR SIN TÍTULO. UNTITLED LOVE. 2011.

CLAIRE IN THE SHADE

Autumn comes like rain
Leaves are not falling from trees yet
The moon is hidden in the wardrobe
Slender shadows at the shore
A flame in a room at the back of my mind Feeling the loss of light
Claire in the shade
I can see her eyes are bright

You call me after work
When you want to ride a while I'm going to feel your head against my back
For you're going to laugh
And I'm going to feel your nose on my sleeve when you're going to cry
Claire in the shade
This trip begins to be bright

This world is walking a tightrope Too many children under guns
I guess you're that strong
Your bones bear the tracks of pain
Know well what's going wrong
Just dirty angels in the roads of fight
Claire in the shade
And the endless flight

(she asked me where I was goin'

I told her I was going to stay Fall is my season
I can't give you a reason
I like your voice when you say
I might forget you like a raindrop
I might always be with you Like a cloud...
You can feel my breath before I leave...)

You have pale skin
And my bike came from Dungeon Town
You're sitting there gazing at me
And I can't say a word
If your days are yet to come
I'll be there for your lonely nights
Claire in the shade
I can drive 'cause your eyes are bright

THE LAST ROUND (El Último Round)

The Last Round
The first thought
I know you know
We like to get out of town before they sell our rust

Ring the bells when your mind is empty and a new heartbeat gets older and slips away

The first feeling coming round the bend A bunch of merry fools is playing your song Your cat is my lion My night is your morn We always like to go out Using the back door

El ultimo Round Volverás a saltar Tienes el brillo La llama que hace tiempo Te dio la dignidad

Cuando beso la lona sólo recuerdo tu piel

Se oye la voz de los rebeldes más alta que la cuenta de diez Dos rayas en el cielo Ninguna puede durar No miras nunca hacia atrás si no es para adelantar El Último Round Estás fuera de alcance No miras nunca hacia atrás Si no es para adelantar

The first feeling coming round the bend A bunch of merry fools is playing your song Your cat is my lion My night is your morn We always liked to go out Using the back door

Dos rayas en el cielo Ninguna puede durar No miras nunca hacia atrás si no es para adelantar Me sedujo la ruina Te lo di todo a ti Siempre nos gustó salir usando la puerta de atrás

The first feeling

coming round the bend A bunch of merry fools is playing your song
Your cat is my lion
My night is your morn
You know we always went out Using the back door

The Last Round
The first feeling...
We always went out using the back door....

(The Last Round You will jump again You have a glow, a flame That gave you dignity years ago When I throw in the towel I only remember your skin They hear the sound of the rebels louder than the ten-second count Two lines in the sky Neither can last You never look back Unless you are going to overtake I was seduced by the ruin I gave you everything We always liked to go out using the back door)

NIGHT UNDER THER SUN (Noche bajo el Sol)

When I finally saw them your dark eyes
I tiptoed quietly to not disturb you
And when you closed your eyelids
I was locked inside them in the night under the sun

Slippery asphalt The motorbike went out of control but it's me who has no control in the night under the sun

Slippery asphalt Untitled love in the night under the sun

Both submerged in the night under the sun Both submerged in the night under the sun in the night under the sun Untitled love

LOVE IS A COAT WITH EYES (Conchas Marinas)

Love is a coat with eyes
These are the wheels that drive you blind
And I can see they are lost in the night and the day
But we all dance and wonder, tremble and cry
'cause love is a coat with eyes

Conchas marinas en tus manos Aunque quieras el doble Hay belleza en la mitad

Esta tarde arriba en el cielo azul Hay una luna sobre almohada que convalece Nubes disparo y nubes pez, Reflejos de ojos y un avión (para el que no existo) las 2 partes en que el rayo me partió Sueños pájaro Esta tarde en el cielo azul hay, arriba...

Love is a coat with eyes
These are the wheels that drive you blind
I can see they are lost in the night and the day
But we all dance and wander, tremble and cry
'cause love is a coat with eyes

Conchas marinas en tus manos Aunque quieras el doble

Hay belleza en la mitad

Love is a coat with eyes... Lilies and thorns, hearts on the wire We all dance and wonder, tremble and cry Love is a coat with eyes...

(Seashells in your hands Though you may want even more there's beauty in just half

This afternoon up above in the blue sky there is a convalescent moon on a pillow Shooting clouds, cloud fish Reflections of eyes A plane for which I don't exist A bolt of lightning struck me in two)

ANOTHER TIME (Otro Tiempo)

The clear sky
The collar is up
And the songs are floating in the music hall
There's nothing to explain
You scream to the stars you piss in the wind
It's another time for which it's worth laughing and it's worth crying

There are many demons but only one you have to be afraid of
He is disguised as a seller of nothing and steals jokers' hearts
There are some gods none of whom have too much to say We drink in the taverns
We dance in the dancehalls
The silence of pleasure in the hostels
It's another time
for which it's worth getting there and it's worth leaving

The waiter has the day off
The tram takes you to suburbs where there are no idiots or light The jar is lowering and so is the waterline I take off my hat for that drunk sailor who forgot his home port For the unfinished words left behind and the great endless loves

It's another time
for which it's worth falling and it's worth flying

THE SAME RIVER (El Mismo Río)

Ten years fit in this bottle in this bare jukebox I'll go out to the light and my eyes will blink not because the dark is gone but because the dark may be a tired bird.

Horses that jump in the water throwing out spray Jumps of acrobats in the night without a net

Ten years fit in this bottle
Open your wardrobe and choose clothes Pull the cork out and make a wish
If you are the same river the sea will take care of you.

SHADOW / FLASH (Sombra y Centella)

How good it would be to live other lives in another town and to find in them all your wait-and-see eyes and legs and this see-you-later back One of us shadow The other one flash

How good it would be
To ground you there
To go out flying over your cliff
Where your hair hides you and sweet is the pain
To be a stowaway on your pirate ship built by my mind to travel over foreign waters with no compasses

To sleep outside with dogs that don't get into your home how nice...

To raise the fog and see not anything
To play with the cards you left aside
To be the king who doesn't reign over you whom you only want to serve for one day Your Dale Arden's dreams under the Ming Empire

How good it would be to leave you where I fall May you be my bridge to cross To laugh at gods that forget about me and come back to you with my dying strokes One of us Shadow, the other one Flash

You are Shadow I am Flash Raise the fog Change places...

EVEN MORE (Más Todavía)

Reality is becoming fantasy
The chords are turning minor
After so much time
I don't see the sense in looking back Sometimes you leave forever but you leave half of it behind
You know what an angel is and what is just a joke
You know how to make the very devil laugh
A blue flash and the trick is that you are gone
A handkerchief in the wind and the price is being lost Even more...

The day time stops to turn mud into shoes To be king of the breath that comes from your mouth not of your lips It's better to know how you feel than to be right The day time stops

How often do I have to dream of you for you to really see me?
Walking Mr Ku through the paper parks
A mannequin gives you a hug and an ear says oh my god You buy an ice cream and a bit melts
When you lose elegance you better stay away
It could be right though is wrong to be as sexy as chance?
A blue flash and suddenly you're gone

A handkerchief in the wind and the charm is to be lost Even more...

The day time stops to turn mud into shoes To be king of the breath that comes from your mouth not of your lips It's better to know how you feel than to be right The day time stops

SEA OF GLASS (Mar de Cristal)

The cap pulled down to the sky, dressed in black and in the clouds while she thinks sweetly of pain
You didn't say too much but in silence you felt everything Though there are others who shout loud you live apart, in underwater worlds
A wee gift for her, she has your seaweed in her hands Sad songs for joyful hearts at Sea of Glass

Day passes by and you can end up without art nor magic but you always keep your heart up your sleeve She likes your boots... umm, will she take care of your feet? In a world of No, ask for three shots of Yes today And she is electric, a moon that changes its cardinal points And you laugh and dance and ache and fall silent Sad songs for joyful hearts at Sea of Glass

TERMINI

There is no time to waste time
We ask not for instant coffee nor instant kisses
We are fireflies
We don't pay to see or be seen
The water covered the house, then you stole the light I'd be cold if the dying embers did not look at me with tenderness

I'm going to change a long andante for two magenta hands While I get to Termini and back to the start

Throw more sugar when you think there's enough Another spoonful to keep on playing The screw that does not have any use is the piece of the puzzle that fits when you touch me The Gorey's herring swings on the ceiling I stay where mystery reigns from Piazza Spagna to Fleet Street and beyond the boulevard

And these steamed lips as I'm getting to Termini Steamed lips and back to the start I feel time can go slower
That's how I feel and I make space for you
I can see the sea balls and the snow confetti
You say it was just a mirage and I just want another one
Our heart is in danger as is the grace
I take my time, give what I have and I'm still full Moving makes no sense if there's no sentiment

And time can go slower as we leave Termini Steamed lips leaving from Termini Time can go slower leaving from Termini Steamed lips and back to the start

CRIMSON KING (Rey Escarlata)

Tonight there are no States nor things Tonight there are no scooters except oranges
Tonight life crashes the cymbals of the empire Angels and frogs wake fish up from lethargy
There are no objects, lady, because there are no subjects
There are no behaviour analyses nor eternal passports
There are no scientists no popes
Nobody loves anything, just lovers and clowns
In the court of the Crimson King

Tonight the rubbish bags dance waltzes
Tonight the factory products are delirious
Tonight there are no guards nor alarms
Plate-spinners stroke Mozart with baby fingers Limousines driven by teenagers of yesteryear
There are no plastic paradises, nor masters of napalm Spinoza's guffaws, baby blue's whimpers
Not any dream saved, just deep advice
In the court of the Crimson King

Tonight there are no unemployment queues nor full piggybanks
Tonight there are no little sisters of mercy nor lice Tonight the warriors skate in the parks
Young maids serve dinner in public toilets
There are no rubber elephants, lady, there are no kangaroos Barflies administrate borders with broken mirrors Cinderella frees butterflies from the judges' robes Bottichelli organizes orgies on the beaches of God

Tonight there are no promised lands
Tonight there is no remorse,
No reasons nor guilt
Tonight forgetfulness breaks down laws in the basement Goodbye cruel world
Welcome, playtime
Without concepts or homelands, just fair-lights
The Three Kings give Elvis back his lost Cadillac
No hungry heart will stop beating tonight

PERPLEXED HEART (Corazón Perplejo)

They tell me to cultivate the edges of my assaulted spirit
That nothing happens if I go from side to side taken by the rhythm of whims
That I can cut the cards better without politeness
They tell me not to be so honest when I win or lose That everything is victory or defeat and there's nothing to believe for ever
That I don't have to be so gallant behind people's backs or else I will never get ahead
And what's wrong in forgetting what were just dreams?

And I see it's a bit late for my perplexed heart To be the one I never was To be the one I'm not That's the way it was and the way it beats The perplexed heart

They tell me to go from one flower to another To always get to the point and forget the branches of details so far from the stem To learn to tame or maybe dodge arrows and snakes

They tell me I can be thoughtless on the worst days There's no other morals that survives as much as never settling down

I see now how soon you can forget the secrets they taught about pain and pleasure Strange days when everything's clear When the fuel lasts as long as you do

If you give in to these voices coming from the new stars
The charming bastard
The mocking one in difficult times
If you become dazzled by the prevailing light Life told by the evasive ones by the ones who adore gods that erase all certainty, all steady illusion

And it's too late now for my perplexed heart
To be the one I never was To be the one I'm not As much as you have as much as you give
As much as I have as much as I give It's the same heart beating
The perplexed heart

UNTITLED LOVE

Every night I stick my head out of the window and look at the Stars. I open the bow-window and stand on the balcony. As I run my eyes over the sky and stare at the darkness, stars appear as a gift for my gaze. The people I love and the people I don't love, the ones who have been close to me over the years and the ones I only met for a moment. They all are there, they shine if you keep your eyes opened. There are no titles to be shown, no medals. Stars float by themselves. Remember I wear your jacket. This old jacket that travelled on motorcycles and trains, buses and planes, that flew beyond the amnesiac clouds and the conventional worlds. I wear it and I do it with pride, it hurts sometimes and makes you feel pleasure. I might not have news from you for a long time. I might meet you tomorrow, or we could never meet again. I wrap up with this jacket when the night is falling and I feel I'm closer to the stars than they are from me. Pure illusion, rebel grace.

We might have given a title to our love, but our love is and will be an anonymous love, a rambling one, every love will be this way, smoking steam of skaters on the foggy cement of the nameless days. Just the glow...

We know what it means. You know it.

We keep wearing the love that goes.

NUEVAS LETRAS INÉDITAS Y POEMAS MUSICADOS (2010-2014)

LA COCINA CARRUSEL

Suena la tetera
Se cuece el arroz
En la cocina en la que todo pasa
No tiene miedo el que va hacia la luna
Una mirada a la nevera
Mientras las voces se pegan a tu espalda
Como si nada
En la cocina carrusel

Salta el gato a la mesa
Ruedan los vasos hasta los labios
En la cocina en la que todo pasa
Se perdieron algunas guerras
El gesto inocente te salva de la quema
No hay dinero en el sombrero
El viento en el porche
juega a tu favor
(en la cocina carrusel)

Viene aire frío de las montañas En el town green el chico del abrigo hace sonar el kazú Cuando salga el sol volverás a subir al coche rojo camino de Bearsville

Podríamos patinar, volar en skaters Hacer el cus-cus a la Wittgenstein Romper la hucha con Kaktus de pie Defender el Palacio de la Moneda Hacer bailar a Amanda y a Manuel

Suena la banda en la cinta
La salsa está lista para luchar
En la cocina en la que todo pasa
Dos bidones de gasoil
Y una vieja guitarra que habla con la cólera de dios
El río pasa cerca con sueños lejanos
El mar está en tus ojos y se queda ahí
En la cocina en la que todo
Puede pasar

VANINA VANINI

Sólo soy un carbonero El hijo de un cirujano rural Tú la princesa de las calles de Roma Tu mirada no tiene final

El futuro es incierto Rodeados de enemigos Me pediste tres días Te di 6 y la vida

Vanina Vanini El amor vuela alto y así la traición Vanina Vanini Querías lo imposible Mi orgullo y tu valor

Veneno de color rojo Al beber de tu cuerpo se abre la sed Estamos ganando una batalla que podríamos perder

Vanina Vanini Aunque no al mismo ritmo tocamos la misma canción.

LEAD ME ON (Llévame al Huerto)

I'm going to Julia's House With a story book and staples in my soul
You could do something for me when you have the time Lead me on
I have heard too many stories and none of them took my pain away

Come on, lead me on The city doesn't have what we were looking for Or else we might go to Fisterra And make love starting at the end

I might follow you, says Julia but I don't like to know where I'm going to You have plans I don't have any I just want to laugh at nothing for a moment and a dress that bleeds without pain

Come on, lead me on There are trains that blow away the city Or else we might go to Fisterra And begin to feel starting at the end

Dancers in music boxes
Dreamers of the damned dream

Labourers up to their necks in mud Scarecrows with covered ears

Julia's under the tree
Insanity cures everything How it would be to bite your lips and then let you drink?
Don't forget to pay for one more night
At the last hotel...

Come on, lead me on There's no more wine left in the city Or else we might go to Fisterra And make love starting at the end

THE BALCONY (El Balcón)

I like this house because it has a balcony. I like houses, rooms, hotels with windows and balconies. It's a dizzy temptation and an impeccable attractive place. It's the boat ready to set sail whose captain has stopped the wheels of time. This balcony I'm writing to you from: the life I know I have to live. A life of equilibrium, lying in wait. A toast the house makes to the world. the probe at the forefront. Sometimes I make out a figure on the other side, two black eyes like they are closed staring at me. Other times it's just a reflection of restlessness. I leave the door to the balcony slightly open, an unfinished song. Days pass by through the crack like beams of light. There aren't two identical days. What is a silent farewell today could be the din of an encounter tomorrow.

DISTILLER (Destilador)

I take the tiredness of day
The sweat, the wrinkles, the hugs
The pains, the laughter, the boredom
A fleeting image passing by in front of my eyes and I know it was the beauty I always wanted to find Another image that made me think of the horror that lies ahead of us
Second-hand clothes, different voices, scraps Grease from the motorbike, a notch on the wall
I take all this and I distil it in an invisible still I distil what the day brings and takes away and it remains a poem that is not the day and might be any day

One of these nights we can have a drink together if you want

THE CARDS

You will die in the far-away galaxy of Trantor between forgotten bandits and pictures of saints

You will die of an incurable illness in an island with no name or on the ridge of a wave of a punk sea

They will say you lived an affair with the Emperor's daughter and you won't be able to deny it

The colorful birds will come down and cover your body and will shake your bones like bells in a purple party

You will die in the anonymity of a fish with no river

Cards say this

You will die and the Japanese girls will wash your feet during the tea ceremony but they won't know they won't contort for you

You will die in the autumn of another's life Like an ancestor of the ones who won't be born yet

You will seem to be asleep like an empty mailbox an unopened box of surprises a flower of evil that never knew its future

You will die in the winter of the navigators when like soldiers without banners they walk over the ruins of unrealized dreams
The chrysanthemums will cry for you And old German accordion will tone a song with no words

Someone will take with your records of The Velvet the boxing gloves, the blue Chevrolet and the hats

There won't be entourage

You will die then when the dates are succeeding in the city after the sudden appearance of the moon in the mirrors

There won't be farewells nor epitaphs Nobody learned how to say goodbye because when you went away you always seemed to come back somewhere else

You will die this way like a resigned diner when the love waiter doesn't pass the lounge of chances with his silver trays.

LOST (Perdido)

The girls have gone out I'm holding my umbrella folded As much as you may know about storms a lightning bolt may strike you The waiter of love has a day off The girls have gone out

I'm lost

I have this beautiful broken smile
It's been a long time that I've been walking around
I fell down from the train that takes you home
I lost the sharpest teeth I used to chew I'm kind with strangers whose speech is sweet and quiet Then I forget

My voice has gone out
Didn't leave word of a new address Didn't write a note
I'm lost walking around Reading stories, drinking wine
I forgot the agenda
I burnt the bridge you built for me and I'm lost walking around

THE BED THAT RAINS (La Cama Que Llueve)

Everything began a thousand years ago when I looked into your eyes and knew you were my brother

Everybody is plugged in They draw more borders but there are less permission to get in or get out

Hello, jump, laugh, it hurts On the bed that rains

The night in Tunisia
The despaired street vender How far the wind takes what burns and cries out

Hello, jump, sing, bite On the bed that rains Goodbye, dream, on time, later On the bed that storms

Your hands will be the branches Your eyes the trunk of my loneliness That smile of the ones without anything shines and goes away Everything began a thousand years ago when I looked into your eyes and knew you were my sister

Hello, jump, dance, it hurts on the bed that rains Goodbye, dream, soon, later on the bed that rains

FLEETING WINTERY NIGHT

My brain is droppin' rain
Your brain is droppin' rain
We'll all meet in the middle of a dark deep lake
I never thought of sunken boats
I never thought you'd need to float concerned about saving your brand new clothes Tonight I'm going to get drunk
These sounds you own are not that punk
I torn up the television
You are the shadows of my visions

I would ruin my world for beauty or I would save your life for beauty Time flies like flamingos do in autumn heading south...

This is a fleeting wintery day Give me a cuddle or give me light You are a naughty player all the way This is a fleeting wintery night

Album "DAYS OF THE FALL (Sin Detenerse)". 2018.

30 years of music, voice and lyrics.

DAYS OF THE FALL

It's hard to sleep tonight
I can't even have a break
The government has been changing to keep on being the same I can hear the jobless claims when I wake up and look around
I been thinking of you & me
We had a crazy affaire
In the Days of the Fall

There were the Days of the Fall
There were the Days of The Fall
I been thinking of you and feeling blue
These are the Days of the Fall again

Now I'm got no place to go, My nose pressed up against the window panes

I could kill you or love you
I'm not sure about it yet
We were walking by the river boulevard when you spoke and I laughed
We had a crazy affaire
In the Days of the Fall

These are the Days of the Fall These are the Days of The Fall I been thinking of you and feeling blue These are the Days of the Fall again

MÍRAME / CADA VEZ MÁS CERCA CLOSER AND CLOSER (Look at me)

I'm closer and closer
I have no one around
I'm closer and closer
Please open your eyes
We have place the blanket
We sold even the TV
I'm crossing slowly the streams
Following you blindly by the Baltic
I'm going with you

They have closed the borders
Greed, anger and double cross
I'm going out for cigarette papers and raspberries Pack all things, leave the pot in the sun
I still remember well your legs dancing and waving goodbye Sophia crawls in the attic
The Country is a madhouse
I'm going with you

When being happy is so slow

When being happy is so deep inside I'm the same I was and I'm another one I can't remember well your face....

CODA:

Look at me a little more
I haven't burnt myself enough (yet)
Look at me a little more
I haven't burnt myself enough (yet)
Look at me...

You' ll see I have nothing better to do in this so fast century than to take a slow walk thru your look

SONG FOR YOU

I wrote a song for you who never knew who I really was I'll be never as real as that creature fighting rust

Mi casa ya no cabe dentro de sí misma Empujo para cerrar. Jirones de vida asoman. Por favor ¿podrías pasarte por aquí un día de estos con tus ojos de abordaje y tus brazos de saqueo?

My house doesn't fit inside itself
I push until the doors are closed. Rags of life through the cracks
Please ¿could you come by here one of these days with your boarding eyes and your looting arms?

I wrote a song for you who never knew who I really was I'll be never as real as that creature fighting rust Oh Please, oh please ¿Could you come by here one of these days with your boarding eyes and your looting arms?

Please
I wrote a song for you who never knew who I really was I'll be never as real as that creature

I wrote a song for you...

fighting rust

TRACES

We had to drop along the ledge in the darkness of our rooms Yes we groped for the right words before we were eaten by the moon

You wearing black stockings and that shirt with number eight I'm going to have good luck I'm high for the take-off weight

You paint my panting Water mist on the cold glass Let's make a crazy tail before our time has passed....

We had to drop along the ledge in the darkness of our rooms Yes we groped for the right words before we were eaten by the moon You wearing black stockings and that shirt with number eight I'm going to have good luck I'm high for the take-off weight

Remember my wondering faces Baby of Rebels Crack Forget I drew you close and left traces on your back

SONRISA

You can not have what does not belong to anyone This is how it should be What flies wild and the moon is his law

I can not describe a smile that shines and that arrives that comes and goes

(chorus)
It's just a moment, it's an eternity(bis)

You wrote it on the tree leaf We are the time that's left We are madness and passion Joy and sorrow, joy and soul (chorus)
And there is a flying train and the blue sea
And the night is the dream of light

I can not describe a smile that shines and that arrives that comes and goes

(spoken) Dime caramelito, cómo te va Dime caramelito, cómo te va

I can not describe a smile that shines and that arrives that comes and goes

(chorus)
It's just a moment, it's an eternity(bis)

You wrote it on the tree leaf

We are the time that's left We are madness and passion Joy and sorrow, joy and soul

(chorus)
It's just a moment, it's an eternity (bis)

THE DEVIL THAT WAITS

On the other side of the table during the Japanese dinner you are quiet and smile and it seems wise you break "waving hellos" into my lips From your flat roof eyes nothing is planned everything slopes down steeply and ahead And there are days I stay looking at the bleeding and thirsty wall And I keep the saint in the fridge and the devil waits for me

Your socks walk barefoot
Your fingers run away and tousle
No matter how far I go o how close it's the line
I cross to see you again
I think the world spots out from your navel when you let the stirrup out while running You hear what I don't say feel what I don't write Bring peace and madness
Two poisons without a cure

And there are days I stay looking at the bleeding and thirsty wall And I keep the saint in the fridge and the devil waits for me

You have let the revolt go loose and have taken the key away This clock has no hands
You tear them once and for all I've got two forks for your hair and have my head to be lost I keep the saint in the fridge and wear the suit of the devil who is waiting for you

Estrofa voz femenina:

He tomado la bastilla para luego dejarla sola Mi puerta no es de nadie No puedes atrapar mi ola Llego pronto y río contigo y me voy con mi osamenta Ten calma y vive con alma Yo soy el frío y el abrigo en el país de la primera vez

SIN DETENERTE

So much heat I can not stand Near Sicily another raft arrived
They run away from the plague of the South War
Do not tell me anything, just smile
Do not tell me what will not happen Although I was not thinking of seeing you there you go again
Your crystal blood, and your sea breeze
I get tangled up in the aroma that goes with you

Can you pass quickly again by my side without stopping? (2)

The news are not good, They never are The time left is our passion
You are my food, it lasts a whole century Lost adrift, you know well where I'm going
We suffer for those who could not arrive
We love those who could not enjoy
You want to live in a previous time
I'm a hundred years old, I can give them to you Can you pass quickly again by my side without stopping?(2)

You speak with your hands, you travel like lightning
From the hill one joint and then an airplane
Your legs fly high, a cat released
You do your own thing just like revolution
I'm happy to get out on your curve
I get tangled in the breeze that goes with you I'm alone, rhythmic singing
You are that star that you have awakened
(2)

Can you pass quickly again by my side without stopping? (4)

I am one hundred years old, I can give them to you - You're old - You're strange - You're so great ...

WHY

Why to go somewhere else
Somewhere else for nothing
Don't ask me what I'm dreaming you were there in my dream
The cat put his white paws like gloves on my face
I'm trying to change the year
without changing the place

I'm coming from hell to talk about paradise with you If we don't have a plan that's one and it's (really) good

My father he told me Nothing lasts forever She left the house a week ago I still see her eyes on my room I'm not hungry nor thirsty Feeling aout and blue She said I'll be close to you like the stars and the moon

Estamos en alta mar sin mapas ni dolor Si no tenemos un plan aún puede ser mejor

Why to go somewhere else
Somewhere else for nothing
Don't ask me what I'm dreaming
you were there in my dream
The cat put his white paws
like gloves on my face
I'm trying to change the year
without changing the place
I'm coming from hell to talk about paradise & you
If we don't have a plan that's one and it's (really) good

I'm coming from hell...

BLUE CAT

Why is everybody laughing and you cry All those fireworks color the sky tonight Wish you could crack a smile and fly Why those bastards didn't let you cross the line?

I'll sit down with you on the edge I wont be like the ones who made you a pledge I have bread and water, a blanket and a tale We'll be our warm shelter for a day

I'm just a cat and I know which country is mine and I don't know about sins or crimes I'm just your cat and I know where I belong My land is to feel your skin as my song

Tell me about that blue you like Today I don't have news from you I'm not sure what scares me more That blue in your eyes when you look at me or else the blue not being there anymore anymore...

Me sentaré contigo en el filo No seré de esos que te hicieron promesas Tengo agua y pan, una manta y un cuento Seré tu cálido refugio por un día

Háblame de ese azul que te gusta Hoy no tengo noticias de ti

No sé que me asusta más Ese azul que se refleja en tus ojos cuando me miras o que el azul no exista nunca más.

DEIÁ

El sol asomó La máquina era suave y genial Ahí estaban Kevin y Robert Robert, David, James y Syd Tantos duendes, tanta magia, locura y dolor

Eran los setenta Formentera sin fronteras Luego Pep tras el Gong (bis)

Querer la alegría de la bengala sin importar el incendio y la razón; querer el fuego y la razón, seguir a la bengala alegres y jugar la carta corazón.

Alguien os vio reír La máscara del feliz Un día como una gran ilusión El cumpleaños de nadie El accidente, el error nos salvó El misterio, el misterio...

El sol asomó
El sol se acostó
Fueron chispas en los dedos
La sensación de la única vez
Una bandera roja
Una bandera roja
El mar, la revuelta, la fiesta, cuerdas rotas
Los castillos de un solo día

Sauntering, sauntering, sauntering...

Qué hermoso sería cantar para gatos y muchachas en el teatro y en el bar. Deiá, Deiá, Deiá, Deiá....

El sol asomó El sol se acostó Eran los setenta Formentera sin fronteras Ahí estaban Kevin y Robert Robert, David, James y Syd Tantos...

WORTTHY ART

To be worthy to look at you I have pawned the remains of my art sprinkled my voice with honeys and flies to dream dark where your body curls up and splits me

(what has you been doing while I was sleeping)

CAMINAR

Caminar sin rumbo dando tumbos Caminar salvaje sin más equipaje que ser digno de ti

Ir hasta el fondo del agua y las plantas Echarte de menos
y cuando me ofreces tu manta decirte que no Para ver claro hay que internarse en los pantanos

Ser elástico en un mundo cartesiano Volver del revés los guantes hasta que salgan tus manos en aventura sin ley Hacer un pacto con el puente para dormir debajo con dos libros, un cepillo de dientes y una foto de tu sangre de ballena insurrecta Vivir concupiscientos días en el teatro de tus bosques

Caminar sin rumbo hasta la más profundo Caminar salvaje hasta donde lleve el viaje.

(Poema escrito en Isle of Gigha (2000) and Siete Aguas (2016))

WALKING

To walk without any direction Wandering around To walk wildly wihout carrying any bags but being worthy of your own life

To get to the bottom of waters and plants To miss yourself and when someone offers you a blanket to say it's not necessary To see all clear you have to go deeply into the swamp

To be flexible in a fixed world To turn your gloves inside out until your hands fly free in lawless adventures To make a deal with the bridge in order to sleep under with a couple of books, a toothbrush and a picture of your rebel-whale blood

To live for concupis-centuries in the theather of your woods

To walk wandering around to the deepest To walk wildly where the trip takes you to

CIRCUS OF LIFE (NO NET) (Aquí no hay red)

You can go but not too far please Be careful when you go out In this circus there's no net Here there's no net

We dedicate so much time to talk about things that happen that things hardly have time to happen And the neighbors hit the partition wall for you to lower the music we want to hear

You can go but not too far please
You can go but look if you leave something behind a collar in the empty bottle a heart that always goes round the same station

You can go but not too far please Be careful when you go out In this circus there's no net Here there's no net

No te vayas muy lejos Aquí no hay red Aquí no hay red

ABOUT WINE (Sirious & DeeDee)

What I know about wine I understand only when I drink
The wheel of life is Fragility
Madness
Calm

I grease the wheel every day
Don't mind if this doesn't make sense
I am so fast I don't run
I know you are on my side when you caress me

Bongos, light, action Fragility Madness Calm

What I know about wine I understand only when I drink The broken canes you lean onto are no better than climbing

The wheel of life is Fragility Madness

Calm

We are leaving the empire behind We get closer to the beauty that makes us speechless You can come with me whenever you want but never ask me how much is left to arrive

What I know about wine...

DIANA & ROBIN

They are sweet
They are bitter
They are so close so far
They act in a film noir
They love to play the rebel notes
Chocolate at night makes them float

Call her Diana
She's a radiant figure in a dark world
Ice block for the days of the walls
Call him Robin
He's a dreamer of voiceless dreams

They are the arrow
They are the bow
They are living in Liberty Row

YA NO ESTÁS MÁS

Y ya no estás más Lo puedo jurar Y ya no estás más Y ya no seré el mismo de ayer Ya no estás más No puedo sentir lo que no ha de ocurrir El miedo pasó Me dijo que no Que ya no estás más Y ya no seré El mismo de ayer Me voy a romper Me voy a inventar Una mascara más Y tú ya no estás

Tejiendo las sombras está esa sonrisa que no volverá Vamos cantando como años atrás Que el río recuerde letra y compás Tiempo tendremos de llegar a ciudad Entre las olas dementes no te puedo encontrar
Y ya no estás más
Y ya no seré
El mismo de ayer
Recordar y olvidar...

Quid, quae te pura solum sub nocte canentem audieram? Numeros memini, si verba tenerem (Virgilio, Bucólicas IX)

ALCANZARTE

Intento alcanzarte pero tú ya no estás Tu cielo ya es rojo El mío es negro piedad Llevo retraso porque llego a sentir sin saber lo que se siente al llegar

Cierras los ojos para ver el sol Y aún estoy rompiendo la luna en dos La canción olvidada de la Troupe Escarlata Qué mejor que volcar la jarra y titubear

Intento alcanzarte pero tú ya no estás Me prestaron un sueño que parecía real Cerillas en cajas no arden jamás El mundo entero se parte

Buena suerte al saltar

Cierras los ojos para ver el sol Y aún estoy rompiendo la luna en dos La canción olvidada de la Troupe Escarlata Qué mejor que volcar la jarra y titubear

Intento alcanzarte pero tú ya no estás Llevo retraso porque llego a sentir sin saber lo que se siente al llegar

I'm trying to catch up to you but you are not there anymore Your sky is already red Mine is mercy black I'm being late 'cause I come to feel not knowing how does it feel when you arrive

You close your eyes to look at the sun and I'm still breaking the moon in half

That forgotten song of the Scarlet Gang What better than pouring out the jug and hesitate

I'm trying to catch up to you but you are not there anymore They borrowed me a dream that seemed so real Matchticks in boxes never burn I'm being late 'cause I come to feel not knowing how does it feel when you arrive

You close your eyes to look at the sun and I'm still breaking the moon in half That forgotten song of the Scarlet Gang What better than pouring out the jug and hesítate

I'm trying to catch up to you but you are not there anymore Your sky is already red Mine is mercy black I'll be the footsteps you're leaving behind

Suena la tetera
Se cuece el arroz
En la cocina en la que todo pasa
No tiene miedo el que va hacia la luna
Una mirada a la nevera
Mientras las voces se pegan a tu espalda
Como si nada
En la cocina carrusel

Ruedan los vasos hasta los labios
En la cocina en la que todo pasa
Se perdieron algunas guerras
El gesto inocente te salva de la quema
No hay dinero en el sombrero
El viento en el porche
juega a tu favor
(en la cocina carrusel)

Viene aire frío de las montañas En el town green el chico del abrigo hace sonar el kazú Cuando salga el sol volverás a subir al coche rojo camino de Bearsville Mirando al cielo con sangre en la nariz Y las manos pintadas Lo podríamos pasar bien O lo podríamos dejar pasar

Suena la banda en la cinta
En la cocina en la que todo pasa
Dos bidones de gasoil
Y una vieja guitarra que habla con la cólera de dios
El río pasa cerca con sueños lejanos
El mar está en tus ojos y se queda ahí
En la cocina en la que todo
Puede pasar

THE CARROUSEL KITCHEN

A kettle sings The rice boils in the kitchen where everything happens A look in the fridge while the voices hug your back like it's nothing in the carrousel kitchen

The cat jumps on the table Glasses fly to lips in the kitchen when everything happens
Some wars were lost
The innocent gesture saves you from the burn
There's no money in the hat
The wind in the porch is on your side (in the carrousel kitchen)

A cold breeze comes from the mountains
The boy in the grey coat plays the kazoo in the town green
When the suns comes out you'll get back in the red car on the road to Bearsville

Looking to the sky with a bloody nose and painted hands we could have some fun or we could let it pass

The band plays on the tape
The sauce is ready to fight
in the kitchen when everything happens

Two kegs of petrol and an old guitar that speaks like the wrath of God The river flows near with faraway dreams The sea is in your eyes and stays there in the kitchen where everything happens

TURTLE THAT DREAMS (La Tortuga que sueña)

Hello. I'm one of the refugees.
They take us in trains and buses.
We are of wood and glass.
I see you have platform eyes, you who keep your memories in chests of silence; hugs have a metallic splinter taste now.
Hello. I'm one of the refugees.
I have a hollow right there, in my left ribs where you can't fit.
The feather in your hand,
My left wing dances without you.

Hello. You'll never know about the airtight garage where I grew up. You're not curious. Ideas navegate thru maps of cables, you will think they are yours, what you have to look, think, feel. Inside plastic tubes they keep cinism of the ones who doesn't want to know. Everything is strange, right? I'm one of the refugees. Hello. I'm in wagon number three. Don't know where they are going to take us. Don't know if we will meet again.

One small bone hurts me and a big heart beats in us.

Desire is the north, the silence is blonde.

You don't understand these songs and the liquors that await, the treasures that saves us, and get us wounded and then scarred.

You have won so much you have lost yourself. You have nothing that can interest me.

My left wing fits in there,

Movement is useless but how beautiful.

I'm a turtle that dreams.
I'm a dabadaba swing.
I see you draw borders but you can draw me.
My flesh is already a border. I'm already a country!
I leave you my albums like kisses, movies as hugs.
I'm a turtle that dreams.
Dabadaba swing.

LONG TRIP TO LYDORION

(Fer Garcin & add words by Ella Berg)

(Gracias por los besos que me diste ahora que tengo la boca rota)
She told me
-Sweet DreamsBut the only thing I could think of was how to get this thing behind me.
You will, you will...
It is all behind me now.
I've written my lists,
Cleaned out the cupboards

And donated my clothes to San Juan de Dios.

I miss you Sometimes I do

But

I miss me first And then we'll see What I can do I miss me Sometimes I do

But

I got my red cap and I got my cheap guitar

Guess I'm doing better Got another day out of the way

And I did it in style,
And I did it in red.
You will be all right,
You will be all right,
This is a song in rags
Don't come to any pretty palace
This is a room for the ones against the tide
We have nothing but the right to fight Sleep tight. ..:

Yes
I say Yes because I like the Word
Although I tend to Sing
No-No-No...

Thank you for the kisses you gave to me before my mouth was broken

It's this long trip to Lydorion I'm in this long trip to Lydorion

CINDERELLA SHOES

I once went to heaven and they said: 'what the hell are you doin' here'. So I never tried again. I met you down by the pylons of Dry River anyway. I asked you for laughter and tears. You said: 'Only heaven knows'. Then you began to dance. Some weeks later I'd learnt one thing: many had been looking for Cinderella' shoes but I was the only one who saw your perfect feet.

(Fui una vez al cielo y me dijieron: ¿qué demonios haces aquí? No volví a ir. Te conocí junto a los postes de luz en Río Seco. Te pedí risas y lágrimas. Dijiste: 'Sólo el cielo lo sabe'. Y seguiste bailando. Unas pocas semanas después había aprendido una cosa: muchos habían estado buscando como locos los zapatos de Cenicienta, pero solo yo me había dado cuenta de tus pies perfectos.)

IN THE RED

As much as you may know about storms a lightning bolt may strike you The waiter of love has a day off The girls have gone out I'm in the red (4)

I have this beautiful broken smile
I once met that woman from Brownfield Land
She said "Oh boy, I love your smileit's like a child looking at his very first bike while he can't ride yet"
I'm in the red (4)

Lalala (bridge) (2)

It's been a long time that I've been walking around I fell down from the train that takes you home I lost the sharpest teeth I used to chew I'm kind with strangers whose speech is sweet and quiet I'm in the red (8)

I'm in the red... (4)

EN ROJO

Las chicas han salido Llevo el paraguas cerrado Por mucho que sepas de las tormentas Igual te puede partir un rayo El camarero del amor tiene el día libre Las chicas han salido

Estoy en numeros rojos y tengo esta preciosa sonrisa rota Conocí a una mujer en la Tierra Descampada Me dijo que le encantaba mi sonrisa-"es como la de un niño que mira su primera bicicleta antes de aprender a montarla".

Hace tiempo que voy sin rumbo Me caí de los trenes que llevan a casa Perdí el diente más afilado con el que solía masticar pan duro Soy amable con los extraños cuyo hablar es dulce y tranquilo

Luego me olvido

Mi voz ha salido
No dejó dirección
No dejó pistas de su paradero Camino por ahí sin rumbo
Leo historias, bebo vino Olvidé el calendario Quemé los puentes que construiste para poder llegar hasta ti Todavía espero encontrar un lugar silencioso donde bailar con mi respiración

Estoy en numeros rojos...

TIME & BLOOD

I will never get back to walk with you along that path they wasted after the flood But we might meet again if we are not looking for It's a matter of time and blood

It was early morning hours when she sang what was in her mind I would have loved to be closer but I knew it wasn't my time

Her music was so beautiful the sound of her voice But she forgot to write the lyrics and I couldn't understand a word

She found out my illness when I was still in good health She painted my wheeze before I learnt to breath Now I'm walking around in a world of tricks and lies Million miles I'm leaving behind for a pretty sincere smile

I wish I had the words from the last of her songs When I was trying to understand she said goodbye and left home.

ADDENDUM (BREVE IDILIO, 1989-1992)

PASIÓN POR PASIÓN

Los que buscan placer O se causan dolor Ese tren que va hacia el Norte De mi corazón Llevan oro en las mochilas Y semillas del perdón No sé quién eres Pero me gusta que me sigas hoy

Unos tienen orgullo Y otros piensan triunfar Tú y yo lo hacemos por el juego Son cosas del corazón La quimera del oro Apurando los clavos No sabes qué quiero Pero me gusta que me sigas hoy

Las estrellas errantes Los que viven sin hogar Una noche en la cabaña Del emperador Me dará suerte tocarte Cuando pierda la razón No sé quién eres

Pero me gusta que me sigas hoy

No fue por nada Que pasaron los días Fue pasión por pasión Pasión por pasión Dos ruedas en la vía Fue pasión por pasión

Era una bella historia Pero se pudo complicar
Miles de bestias hambrientas
Y una sola pieza que cazar Llevan oro en las mochilas
Y semillas del perdón
No sé quién eres
Pero me gusta que me sigas hoy

No fue por nada que pasaron los días....

SOMBREROS

No es cosa de miedo Ese cuervo en la ventana Tenemos que salir Pero luego volveremos El peligro pasó Sabes que No es cosa de miedo

No es cosa de miedo Esa nube en la ventana Nos duele partir Pero luego volveremos El tirón ya pasó Sabes que No es cosa de miedo

Nunca nos gustó Guardar el vino en botellas Es sólo un momento Sombreros al viento Nunca nos gustó Guardar el vino en botellas Es sólo un momento Salir y cogerlo

No es cosa de miedo Ese tren amarillento Las vidas que cargó Servirán como amuleto Otro día llegó Sabes que No es cosa de miedo.

ESTACIÓN LISBOA (Santa Apolonia)

Despertó sin saber Quién pagó por su piel Cuando siguió La línea azul de languidez Bajo sus pies

Se vistió sin saber Quién robó su niñez Imaginó Quién era él Lluvia de sal sobre su piel

No adivinan su edad Los cielos rojos del sur Dos palabras Sobre el hielo vio No podré Nunca olvidar tu voz

Oh deseó Sentir el garfio otra vez Sobre su piel.

VORAMAR

Hay un lugar
Donde el tiempo se mantiene Mirando hacia el mar
Todas las sombras son frías
Los veranos calientes Yo te quiero llevar
A tus grandes ojos grises
A tus renos llevar
Subir la escalera
Abrir la cremallera y mirar

Dulce viento salado Los que perdieron su tierra volverán Toallas rojas En tu cuaderno escribí Hay un lugar Donde el tiempo es luz Yo te quiero llevar Allí.
